Positively our last Week and your last chance.

I would say to those who have not as yet availed themselves of the grand opportunity they have had for the past two weeks of getting a fine Cabinet Photo at from $3.00 to $4.00 per doz., and superior work to any in the city, you have the last chance to do so this week only, Saturday, September 22 being the last day that we shall make pictures at those prices. Our work we guarantee first-class in all respects, and you will get just what you pay for, and your Photos will be finished here in your city, as our finishing department will remain here until Victoria work is all finished. Do not let the thought run away with you, that we intend to run away with your money. Business men and people generally will, by a little consideration, realize the fact, that it is not an easy matter to "skip" and leave the town and the people in a lurch. Our business is strictly honest, straightforward, and carried on in an honorable, business-like manner. Our business could not exist to do otherwise, unless there would be a Busted Photographer. I am not an amateur, nor am I experimenting. I have run this business over 12 years, and by coming to our tents and having a likeness taken you will save $3.00 and $4.00 and get work which will please you. We can not only prove this by eight or ten people, but by hundreds whom we have made pictures for in Victoria.
"Seeing is believing."

The Reformed Church in Austria.

VIENNA, Sept. 18.—Herr Von Tisza, the Hungarian Premier, presiding at a banquet given at Popa, Hungary, in connection with the Reformed Church congress in Asperet, said that an attempt had been made to show that the source of the cold and well deserved douche which has splashed down in Croatia rec[illegible] as the Reformed Church. As a [illegible] fact the source was that good head which was ever solely guided by the interests of the Fatherland and by kingly sentiments. "May that heart," he concluded, "not cease to beat for many years." This reference to Emperor Francis Joseph was received with enthusiastic cheers.

The Whitechapel Murder.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—A German named Ludwig has been arrested under suspicion of being the perpetrator of the recent Whitechapel murders. He threatened a prostitute in Whitechapel with a long knife, and in his pocket were found a razor and a pair of scissors. He cannot speak English and has been in England about three months.

Dillon's Release.

DUBLIN, Sept. 18. — Dillon's release from jail has no connection whatever with the proceedings of the Parnell Commission. Owing to a medical report of Dillon's health the Viceroy of Ireland has granted him an unconditional release from imprisonment although his full term did not expire until the end of the year. He arrived at Dublin this afternoon and was met by a host of friends who gave him a very warm greeting. Among those who received him were Wm. O'Brien, Thomas Sexton, S. D. Sullivan, Peter MacDonald and D. Kenny, members of parliament. Dillon looked much thinner and paler than usual and is obviously ill.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Wm. Henry Hurlburt wrote a letter to the Times to-day which occupies two and a half columns, in which he reviewed the history of the fishery disputes between the United States and Canada. WESTMINSTER NOTES.

Formation of a New Sawmill With a Capital of $30,000.

Building Operations to be Commenced Early Next Year—Crops at Ladner's and Lulu Island Well Advanced—An Excursion Train Runs Into a Railway Velocipede—Selling Liquor to Indians Under the Guise of "Jamaica Ginger."

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

WESTMINSTER, B. C., Sept. 18.—Some months ago a young man opened a store on Lulu Island, a short distance below English's cannery, and since then has been selling what he terms "Jamaica ginger" to the Indians. The stuff turns out to be nothing less than pure alcohol and sugar and will burn away as quickly as the purest French brandy. The liquor had the effect of making the Indians crazy for the time being. Many fights and several stabbing affrays resulted. Last week a man while intoxicated threw his kloochman in the river and attempted to drown her, but Indians coming to her rescue she was saved, Mr. Moresby and Mr. McTiernan went down yesterday and served a summons on the store-keeper to appear at the District court on Thursday to answer to charges laid against him.

Reports from Ladner's and Lulu Island say crops in that vicinity have all been harvested and threshing is well advanced.

On Sunday morning the Kamloops excursion train nearing Keefer's station ran into a railway velocipede on which was seated a night watchman named Brown, who is supposed to have been asleep at the time. Brown was thrown clear off the track, but one of his hands was badly crushed and his forearm splintered. The injured man was taken to Kamloops and placed in the hospital for treatment.

A company has been formed under the title of the Westminster Sawmill Co. for the purpose of building and operating a sawmill to be located on Herring's Point, opposite Sapperton. The company starts with a capital of $30,000, with power to increase to $300,000. Considerable stock has been taken up by prominent citizens of Westminster, and the balance is being taken up by English capitalists. The company has acquired 180 acres on Herring's Point, which gives about half a mile of water frontage with a sufficient depth of water for any class of deep sea vessels. The Southern Railway will run through the company's premises, which will give excellent shipping facilities by rail. Large timber limits have been secured in a locality easy of access at all seasons of the year. Building operations will be commenced early next year and the mills will be cutting timber before the end of the season.

THE RETALIATION BILL.

Discussed In the United States Senate by Sherman.

He Sees No Difficulty In the Way of Fraternal Trade and Intercourse Between Canada and the United States, and Thinks Retaliation Will Only Defeat the "Good Times Coming."

[Special to THE COLONIST.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The deficiency appropriation bill was reported to the Senate to-day and ordered printed. Sherman addressed the Senate on his resolution of yesterday, but his speech was mainly directed to the retaliation bill. After attending to the President's Retaliation Message and justifying the rejection of the fisheries treaty by the Senate, Sherman wondered that the selfish and unchristian like acts of the Canadians had not led to violent retaliation before this time. If the President had by proclamation withheld such privileges from Canadian vessels as were withheld by Canada from American vessels, the trouble would have been remedied promptly, but the President's change of base has excited surprise in both countries and was regarded as a mere political movement. The retaliation measure proposed by the President was far beyond the range of, and out of all proportion to the complaint. He controverted the position of the President that the Article Second of the treaty had been terminated. President Grant had asked for similar powers and congress had refused to grant them. Should congress now give to President Cleveland what had been refused to President Grant? Congress had furnished a simple, ample and in the act of last year. He deprecated the passage of such laws as were proposed in the retaliation bill, in haste and without sufficient consideration. This had been done before under what seemed great provocation and had not resulted well. This bill had reached the house by the "grapevine route." It had been precipitated, pressed and sent to the senate. To seek a quarrel upon such pretense was neither manly, dignified nor justice. It was an afterthought, of which he doubted the wisdom, of conferring such powers of retaliation upon presidents. The practical solution of these questions that has been pending between the United States and our Canadian neighbors for so many years was political and but that could not be reached by unfriendly legislation. The true policy of the government of the United States was to tender to Canada, in a fraternal way, freedom of trade and intercourse, and in such a manner that it would be an invitation to Canada to become part of the American government. He saw no difficulties in the way of the accomplishment of such an object. The institutions and people of the two countries were substantially alike, and such a union could only be accomplished by the free and hearty assent of both people.

RETALIATION WOULD ONLY DEFEAT IT.

He was not willing to vote for a measure that was not demanded by national honor and that would have a tendency to postpone the "good times coming," when the American flag would be the symbol of the union of all the English-speaking people on the continent from the Rio Grande to the Arctic Ocean. Morgan replied to Sherman, and described a portion of Sherman's speech as a "post mortem examination of the recent fisheries treaty." He doubted if Sherman's beautiful picture would be realized before the next century. He had been greatly surprised at the breath of Sherman's treatment of the question, but preferred to read the speech in print before commenting upon it in detail. The resolution went over and the senate adjourned.

REMINISCENCE OF HENRY WARD BEECHER.

An Illustration of the Fallacy of Countenancing Mean and Contemptible Things.

"My father once gave me a sound illustration of the fallacy of giving countenance to mean and contemptible things," said Capt. H. F. Beecher, son of the late Henry Ward Beecher, speaking to a Portland reporter on Wednesday last, explaining why he did not answer certain newspaper charges which have been made against his administration of his office as agent of the treasury department. "One had said something during his trial that chagrined me greatly. I went to him and said: 'Father, why don't you get back at him? I have been taught in my line of business to strike back when a person makes a lead at me. I would go for them in the same style.'"

"'My son,' he replied, 'when you have grown older you will learn that there are always two sides to a road. If you pass down one side of the way, and see ahead of you on the other side a little tail that is spotted and black and white, take my advice and dont rush up to that little tail and pull it—you might get whipped.'"

Percy's Perilous Trip Through the Whirlpool Rapids—A Foolhardy Undertaking.

Correspondence Between China and the United States on the Ratification of the Treaty.

Formation of a Syndicate in San Francisco for the Purpose of Controlling the Silver Market.

Percy's Perilous Trip.

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 18.—After many trials C. A. Percy made his second much talked of trip through the whirlpool rapids this afternoon. The forenoon of today was spent in repairing his boat. At 2.25 it was taken down to the old Maid of the Mist landing and launched. At 4.15 everything was in readiness and Percy descended in his rowing suit. He stepped in and rowed toward the center of the river. At 4.20 he fastened the oars to the boat, stood up and waved good bye to the crowd of onlookers. At 4.23 he stepped into the aft air chamber; at 4.26 he passed under the bridge. At almost the first toss his boat went out of sight and rose bottom up. It seemed an age before the boat righted itself, but it did so just as the crowd became very anxious. The trip was very similar to the one which Percy made on August 18, 1887. He arrived at the whirpool at 4.29, where he left his chamber and rowed across to the Canadian shore. He remained in the whirpool until 5.30, when he was towed across the lower reef and started on his return to Lewiston rapids below the whirlpool which are equally dangerous, if not more so than those above. Just as he was passing Foster's Flats, about a mile below the whirlpool, a huge breaker dashed in the door of his chamber, filling it with water. He was compelled to take the centre of his boat, but before he could properly secure himself he was thrown out in the rapids. He managed to catch the boat, to which he clung for half a mile, when he was dashed away just where the rapids are most fierce. Having a life preserver to bring him up, he started for Lewiston, three miles below. Two miles were through the rapids and for near one hour he battled with the waves. When he reached stiller water several boats were on the lookout for him. He was picked up just under the old Lewiston bridge by a fisherman named Gillett, brought ashore and carried into a waggoner's house nearly exhausted. Had it not been for the life preserver he would have been drowned. His boat has not yet been picked up. Percy has unintentionally performed a feat never before attempted, that of swimming the Devil's Hole Rapids. Nellie Dilsworth, of Pittsburg, who was to have accompanied Percy, backed out and thus saved her life.

Fell Into a Furnace.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—Four men engaged in removing the machinery from the burned building at the scene of the recent large fire, fell into a brick furnace this morning. Geo. E. Murderer Goldenson's Funeral.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—The body of Alexander Goldenson, the murderer of Mamie Kelly, was buried in the Odd Fellows' cemetery here yesterday. Father Fasanatti appeared at the house of Goldenson's mother in the afternoon to take charge of the burial sevrice, but as the family positively stated that the Catholic service should not be held over Goldenson, the father withdrew his permit to allow the body to be buried in the Catholic cemetery.

Application was then made to the Jewish cemeteries, but as Goldenson before his death had embraced the Catholic faith, those in charge would not permit the burial of his body take place in the Jewish grounds. A lot was then secured in the Odd Fellows' cemetery, and the burial took place without any services whatever, either Jewish, Catholic or Protestant.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 18. — This has been a terrible day in the fever history of this state, and the record of new cases is 156 for the twenty-four hours ending at six p. m. Many more than has occurred in any one day since the fever commenced. The day was bright and sunny, and the hot sunshine on the soaked earth is very favorable to the development of yellow fever, and a large increase of disease is expected for the remainder of the week. The medical bureau reported sixty cases. The death roll to-day was for a city like this, more than half depopulated, over twenty. Total cases to date 1,203; total deaths, 153. Some of these rumors are likely to be confirmed at an early date, especially as Judge Monk officially tendered his resignation, feeling that the precarious state of his health will not allow him ever to resume his duties. One of the rumors is that Judge Wurtell will be transferred to Montreal and will be replaced at Alymer by the Hon. M. Taillion, while Messrs. Girouard and Pagnuleto will be made two new judges in his district, Judge Davidson being called to the Queen's Bench; but it is definitely stated that Taillion refused the judgeship, owing to his enforced abandonment of law by his many years of political life.

Hon. Mr. Langevin Interviewed Respecting the Enlargement of the Esquimalt Dock

To Permit of the Entry of the China Steamships—The Crofter Immigration Question to be Submitted to an Imperial Parliament Committee—The Matter to Remain in Abeyance Pending Their Report.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 18.—Alex. Begg, crofter commissioner, arrived to-day from England en route to the Pacific coast. He stated that the amended offers of British Columbia with respect to bringing out crofter families and settling them on Vancouver Island have been shelved, pending investigation by an Imperial parliament committee into the whole emigration question. The committee will meet in November on the reassembling of parliament, when Begg expects to give evidence. While in England this summer he had an interview with Lord Lothean, Secretary for Scotland, and learned from him that the matter will remain in abeyance pending the report of the committee. Begg believes that the investigation will result in the offer of an imperial loan to the British Columbia Government and a much lower rate of interest than that offered last year, three and one-eighth per cent.

Henry Beatty, manager of the Canadian steamships, interviewed Hon. Mr. Langevin to-day and urged the extension of the Esquimalt graving dock. He says it is not large enough for the first-class vessels of the Canadian Pacific coast steamship service.

DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENCE.

A blue book has been published which contains the correspondence between the governments of Great Britain, the United States and Canada relative to the seizure by American revenue cutters of Canadian sealing vessels in Behring's Sea. The circumstances under which those vessels were seized on the high seas are detailed in the correspondence. Mr. Bayard does not in the correspondence defend the action of the American cruisers. Lord Salisbury, in a vigorous letter written on the 10th of September, 1887, shows the inconsistency and the illegality of the proceedings that had been taken under the authority of the Government of the United States. He reminds the American Minister that when Russia claimed jurisdiction over Behring's Sea the Americans were the first to protest against so unreasonable a pretension. They strenuously resisted the claim and emphatically declared it to be inadmissable. He denies that Russia by the treaty of 1867 granted to the United States jurisdiction over any other part of Behring's Sea than is allowed by the law of nations. All that was by that treaty ceded to the United States was the territory and dominion possessed by Russia "on the continent of America and the adjacent islands." It is evident that Russia could not convey to the United States what the government of the latter country had time and again declared she did not possess. If the American government did make an arrangement with Russia respecting what that country regarded as its territorial waters, such an arrangement Lord Salisbury contends would not affect Great Britain. The British Premier to show how groundless the American claim to exclusive jurisdiction over that part of the Pacific Ocean that goes by the name of Behring's Sea is, transmitted to Secretary Bayard documents communicated to Congress by President Munroe in 1832. The American Minister must have felt embarrassed when Lord Salisbury used President Munroe's arguments rather than his own to prove that American Government cruisers had no right to seize the vessels of a foreign power fishing or hunting at a greater distance from the shore than a marine league. His Lordship also quoted the great American publicist, Quincy Adams, in favor of his contention. He concluded his letter by expressing his confidence that the Government of the United States will admit that the seizure and condemnation of these British vessels, and the imprisonment of their masters and crews were not warranted by the circumstances, and that they will be ready to afford reasonable compensation to those who have suffered in consequence, and issue immediate instructions to their naval officers which will prevent a recurrence of these regretable incidents." Lord Salisbury's hope has been realized as regards a repetition of the seizures, but the American Government has, so far, failed to make amends for the losses inflicted by its servants on British subjects pursuing their lawful avocations in a lawful way in Behring's sea far beyond the limits of the territorial jurisdiction of the United States.

EXCITED POLITICIANS.

The Quebec Liberal Politicians, miscallen Nationalists, have commenced their campaign against the exercise of the prerogative of disallowance as far as the acts passed by the legislature of Quebec are concerned. They held a mass meeting in Montreal on the evening of the 13th. The electors were addressed by the Hon. Mr Laurier, Mr. Langelier, M.P., mayor of Quebec, Mr. L. O. David, M. P. P., and others. The gentlemen talked a great deal of sentiment, such as it was, but very little law. They appealed to the prejudices of race and religion and tried hard to make the people of French and Irish extraction believe that they were very badly used. They declared that the magistrates of Mr. Mercier's creation would remain in office in spite of the Governor General's disallowance of the law that made them judges, contrary to both the letter and the spirit of the constitution, and they said that Quebec would oppose the exercise of the veto power, if necessary, to the death. To work up the feelings of their audience to the required pitch, they dragged in the Riel tragedy, and exhorted the French Canadians not to forget what they characterized as "an insult to their race." It is greatly to be regretted that Mr. Laurier and his friends have so far forgot themselves as to treat a question of constitutional law in this inflammatory way. If the disallowance of the Magistrates Act is an unusual stretch of the powers of the Federal Government, justice will be sure to be done those who are aggrieved by it in due time and in the regular constitutional way. The Federal Government, if it had the wish to do so, cannot afford to treat any province, even the smallest and weakest, with substantial injustice. The public opinion of the Dominion will sustain any of the provinces in the assertion of what are really its rights. But the course which the Quebec Liberals have taken is much more likely to set the moderate and law-abiding people of the other provinces against them than to enlist their sympathies and ensure their assistance. By their unwise and unscrupulous appeal to race jealousies and antipathies they are far more likely to alienate judicious Liberals, both English-speaking and French-Canadian in the Province of Quebec itself, than to secure their co-operation. It is very significant that the meeting was not addressed by a single English-speaking member of the Liberal Party. This would not be the case if the agitation in the form it has taken, was popular with the Quebec Liberals of British extraction. Even if Mr. Laurier's case was undeniably good, if there was no reasonable doubt as to the constitutionality of the course taken by Mr. Mercier, the Leader of the Opposition's mode of agitation would be unwise and unpatriotic in the largest sense. But as there is almost a certainty of Mr. Mercier and his colleagues being wrong from a legal point of view Mr. Laurier's utterances are the very acme of folly and unwisdom. As an instance of the conclusion to which independent thinkers have arrived with regard to the exercise of the power of disallowance in this matter of the Magistrate's Bill we quote the opinion of the Toronto Mail, a journal that cannot be accused of being too partial to the present Government. It says: "Looking at the question from this distance, keeping in view the practice in regard to judicial appointments and granting that the exercise of the power to disallow is at any time justifiable, it does appear that the Dominion authorities have kept well within their rights. The new district magistrates are clearly what we, in Ontario, describe as judges." It adds: "These constitutional questions are settled more satisfactorily by the courts than by the platform. It is in the making or the amending, and not in the interpreting of the law that the platform should figure." It can easily be seen that a crowd purposely excited by passion is not the tribunal to which a constitutional question of any kind should be submitted. It is not uncharitable to infer that those who appeal in such a tribunal in such a cause and in such a way are not looking for justice.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN TORONTO.

The Governor-General has visited Toronto. He has been enthusiastically welcomed by men of all classes, conditions and parties. A number of addresses have been presented to him and he has replied to them with cordiality and discretion. The address of the Board of Trade contained an allusion to the somewhat strained relations that at the present moment exist between Canada and the United States. His Excellency's reply was well conceived and happily expressed. He said:

"You have referred—and now I wander upon rather delicate ground—to the satisfaction which was felt at the framing of a treaty by the Commissioners appointed by the British, United States and Canadian Governments for the purpose of settling the Fisheries question. Having been at that time a member of the British Cabinet which inaugurated these negotiations I shared with you the satisfaction which was so generally felt at the result of the negotiations, and it is impossible to conceal a feeling of disappointment when that which were looked upon as a fair compromise and as evidence of a compromise, has been attacked by both sides, is, notwithstanding, not accepted in the light in which it was originally intended. You will not expect me over this, in my place, to enter into any discussion of the political question, but I may say that it is a source of great satisfaction the confident strength with which the Dominion, firmly relying on the goodness of her own motives and the strength of her own course, is able to maintain an attitude of quiet and dignified observation, and is able to feel certain that, the volume of her trade increasing as it does from day to day, if it is denied one channel must find others, and that nothing, please God, which can be done by man will stop the advancing prosperity of this great Dominion. Now, they say no one knows people's affairs as well as their own neighbors. I leave you to apply the aphorism. But this I do think, that we perhaps are in a frame of mind, possibly from a general sense of comfort, possibly from an equally well-placed sense of confidence in which we are inclined to appreciate passing events at their true value: and I honestly trust that neither directly nor indirectly may we be tempted from that path of calmness, sound judgment and even feeling of geniality to those with whom we are brought in contact in political and commercial affairs. It is impossible to believe that where nations are closely allied in blood and interest, they can be put asunder even for a time, and I hope and believe that these words which I have spoken will find a response in the bosoms of your community."

Lord Stanley has guaged public opinion in Canada correctly when he comes to the conclusion that the people of the Dominion feel no ill will towards their neighbors across the border, and are willing to live beside them on the most friendly terms and in the mutual interchange of good offices. But he also sees that Canadians possess a spirit of independence which impels them quietly, but firmly, when those neighbors threaten to close their doors against them, to tell them that they will try to get along without them. Canadians are not blusterers, but they scorn to cringe.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS.

THE Calgary Herald declares that prohibition is a failure in the Northwest. It cites evidence to show that drunkenness was prevalent in many places where, according to law, not a drop of intoxicating drink should have been sold. It says that the settlers were disgusted with the old system of prohibition which did not prohibit, and it is naturally indignant at those good people, thousands of miles away in the East, who insist upon prohibitory legislation being forced on the people of the Territories, in the spite of its being such a very conspicuous failure.

THE capture of the schooner Araunah by a steamer belonging to the Alaska Commercial Company was neither more nor less than an act of piracy. The vessel of a private company has no right to perform the duty of constable on the high seas. Even if the Araunah had been hunting or fishing within three miles of the shore all that the company's ships could do would be to inform the proper authorities of the trespass. The Home Government will no doubt demand a full explanation of all the circumstances attending this singular seizure and will see that unoffending British subjects are not compelled to suffer loss and inconvenience through the jealousy of an unscrupulous monopoly.

MR. G. R. PARKIN, of New Brunswick, in a speech which he made at a meeting of the Imperial Federation Council in London on the first of the present month, commenting upon the manner in which Mr. Goldwin Smith in a recent magazine article misrepresented Canadian sentiment, said, "Even Americans themselves have a truer idea of what our national feelings ought to be. I may mention that a distinguished American visitor said to me some years ago, after having made a trip around the world, that every British subject who was not an enthusiast upon the matter of British unity, was a Philistine of the worst kind." Mr. Goldwin Smith is a very clever man and writes beautifully, but he has very peculiar ideas. Those who take him for a representative Canadian make a very great mistake.

THE foolhardy feat of Percy deserves the reprobation of every man of sense and intelligence. When the good of his country or the safety of his fellow-creatures requires a man to risk his life then it is a virtue in him to face danger, but when no good object is to be gained by the act the man who places himself in a perilous situation commits a crime. No one has a right to play tricks with his own life. It is surprising that the authorities did not interfere to prevent the man Percy from attempting to run the Niagara rapids. Lives have been lost in the insane attempt before and there could be no justification in their permitting Percy to run the risk of meeting the same fate. Those who assembled to witness the passage very nearly assisted at a suicide. It was by the merest accident that the man escaped being drowned or beaten to death on the rocks. The man is no hero. He deserves no credit for what he has done. It is more than likely that if he ware placed in a situation where real heroism is required he would not act with half the pluck that some modest unobtrusive fellow would who would not try to run the rapids in the best craft that human ingenuity could invent for all he ever saw.

North Arm of Fraser River, and adjacent Lands, New Westminster District.

Tuesday, 23rd October,

AT 11 O'CLOCK, A. M.,

I have been instructed by the Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works to sell by Auction,

AT VANCOUVER, B. C.,

Several parcels of Fine Agricultural Lands, situate on and near the north arm of Fraser River, being sub-divisions of Lots 325, 326, 329, 330, 331, 332 to 339, 149, 150, 156, 175, 166, 155. The sub-divisions of these Lots contain from 27 to 172 acres each; the location of these lots is shown on the present map of the District.

The Farms in the immediate vicinity of these Lots are considered the finest agricultural properties in British Columbia. Some of the lots front on the North Arm, and others are in the immediate vicinity of the same.

Steamers run daily from New Westminster and Vancouver, past these valuable properties.

ALSO,

Lots 628 to 670, and Lots 750 to 756,

All situate between the North Arm of Fraser River and Vancouver City. The North Arm road from Vancouver runs through these Lots, and there are other roads laid out that will give access to each of them. This property commences about 2½ miles south of Vancouver city and is bounded on the west by the C. P. Railway Land Grant, and is surveyed into Lots containing from 6 to 56 acres each, maps of which will shortly be ready for distribution.

All the Lands to be sold are well adapted for agricultural, dairy or orchard purposes; and on account of their close proximity to the markets of Vancouver and New Westminster cities, will be very desirable properties for families seeking a home or investment.

The C. P. Railway are now constructing a fine wagon road from Vancouver to the North Arm of Fraser River and Lulu Island. They are also surveying a Line of Railway through these properties with a view of connecting with the United States system of railways at Seattle.

These Lands may fairly be considered as the most valuable ever offered for sale by Auction in British Columbia.

OKANAGON CORRESPONDENCE.

From Head of Lake to Cherry Creek—Notes by The Way—Early Mining and Present Work.

A few miles further along, a narrow road, leading along a wide hill to the north and a creek and swamp to the south side. The same description of timber and scrubby brush is found on most of the route; the fir predominates, while cedar, birch, cottonwood, willows and small brush make up the total of the wood kind. We are now in sight of the Power's cabin, where a mountain spring dances across the road and often refreshes the weary traveler and his animals. The property now belongs to Mr. Robert Goldie, who has had considerable fencing done last spring around the meadow portion of the ranch. We had now reached the home of the McDonald Bros., (John, an old Cariboo man, and "Alec," once a famous whip upon the mail line between Kamloops and the Mission.) Being 20 miles from Vernon and at the last stopping place west of Cherry Creek—17 miles ahead to the east—we concluded to accept the hospitality of our friends and soon our team was in the commodious stables of

BLUE SPRING RANCH.

Messrs. McDonalds are pleasantly situated—a comfortable house, a No. 1 ranch and a fair start in stock. Hay is secured from the prairie part of the ranch for their horses and some 20 head of the cattle kind; there were also fowls, hogs, etc., to be seen, thus arguing that these new settlers understand what farming is, or should be. A good garden adds to the home comfort. The valley is pleasant, but oh! those mountains! The one now named by the writer McDonald Peak is round-headed and, like a tall bully, raises its head over thirteen thousand feet high, and can be seen many miles away; when snow-covered it is said to be a grand sight, one to be admired by lovers of the picturesque. Having spent a pleasant night and enjoyed the cool repose after an extra warm day, next morning we resumed our journey. Adjoining the McDonald ranch is one belonging to Mr. Lawson, of Vernon; considerable fencing has been done around a prairie upon the claim.

We were informed that the 17 miles before us was of a rough character, and this we found as we moved forward along the trail, politely named a government road. Talk about the loop line upon the C.P.R.; the Cherry Creek route presents horse shoe turns, double loops, down grades, up steep climbs and skirting ragged edges. However, we had confidence in our team of mares and buckboard and resolutely proceeded. Coming in sight of the Spallumcheen river four miles upon our morning's journey, we reined up and gazed at the canyon below us and rapid stream over a gravelly bed. No doubt in high water a large body of water flows from the fountain to the mouth of this river. The timber in view did not look as of much value; in fact the whole country has been badly over-run by fires at different times, and now the white and grey rocks expose their variegated colours. Winding around a crooked point the road descends again into low land, where cedar of larger growth abounds. Some day a ranch will be located there, and "nature's wild" changed for the benefit of man. The road leads over a bed of sand and gravel, the forest being of small sized trees, apparently of no value, except required in coming time for log cabin building or fencing. After a few hours drive over a lonesome road, we crossed what is known as Eight Mile creek, that is the distance from Cherry Creek; a good bridge is stretched over; at present water is only about eighteen inches deep.

Shortly after leaving the bridge, where we stopped to water our horses, we were ascending a winding hill, when the two young colts that were traveling in advance of us suddenly stopped and appeared agitated; being in a narrow part of the road and no chance to turn out, and thinking perhaps some person with animals was approaching, we plied the whip and upon turning an elbow in the road we saw forty or fifty rods before us in the road, a large black bear, evidently cogitating about disputing the right-of-way with our colts and team. We intuitively felt for our revolver and glanced at the position of the axe in the buck-board. [The numerous fallen trees at times to be met with upon new roads requires parties to be in possession of an axe.] However, his bearship concluded to move on and our colts fell behind as our team hastened up the road, and the last we saw of the would-be interrupter was as we reached the top of the hill, where we felt to find the warpath had been abandoned. It is said that the soldier upon entering a battle feels a peculiar sensation which disappears after the action commences; be this as it may, we admit that little excitement passed over us as we first beheld the bear obstructing the narrow passage, and did not feel anxious to leave our team to follow into the wilderness. Your correspondent was not in that humor.

We soon arrived at an open field and removing the bars that crossed the highway entered upon the ranch of Mr. Peter Thibadeux, who removed there from Spallumcheen a few years since. He has a log house, barn and a good stretch of fencing to regulate his stock; he puts in part of his time teaming up supplies to the miners. His neighbor, Mr. Frank Shafer, lives a mile to the north, where he is ranching it, and raises grain, potatoes and gardens. Contingent to the mining interest and upon the brow of the hill, is the thriving home of Mr. John Morrison, who with his wife and daughter, have a healthy and pleasant summer residence. After a brief rest we started afoot to visit the mining camp. The canyon of Cherry Creek is deep and rugged, and the trail down it steep. Reaching the bottom, we find a rapid flow of water, and approaching the work we met the present force (Mr. Morrison having gone to his ranch for a few days), consisting of Messrs. Fred Walling, J. M. Hollingsworth and D. Buchanan. The company is organized as the "Hidden Treasure," with Mr. Chase for president, Mr. Morrison, superintendent; Messrs. D. Buchanan, Robt. McDougal and Robt. L. Lee, directors. The company hold the "Hidden Treasure" and another claim some six miles up the creek, the latter placer diggings. The creek runs from the south direction and empties into the Shuswap to the north; the name taken from wild cherry trees along the banks. The "Hidden Treasure" is down about sixty-five feet, and is producing silver and gold bearing ore—a ton recently taken by team to Enderby to be shipped to San Francisco to be tested, will make known the yield of precious metals. Heretofore various assays gave as many different reports. This mine has a history. The first known of the Cherry Creek region as a mining center, was in 1861, when Mr. L. Girouard, now postmaster at Vernon, while out prospecting, discovered good placer diggings there, and soon after found the lead still worked. In '63 Col. Hauton, Messrs. Landwight and Worth, of Hope, both now dead, and others, worked for a time the claim. At one time Messrs. F. J. Barnard and D. Chisholm, M.P., were connected with the claim. Expense heavy and returns light caused a cessation of the work. In 1877 Major Campbell, a Mr. Torrance and others proceeded for a time with the sinking of a shaft close by the first effort. Yield not satisfactory and work hung ore. So far a good many thousand dollars had been spent to little purpose; this did not dampen the ardor of the "Hidden Treasure Company," and the work goes forward and it is to be hoped with reward for enterprise and labor.

(Signed), M. HAGAN.

The Sealers.

The sealing schooners Triumph and Viva discharged their cargoes of skins yesterday. The Mary Ellen will come alongside the wharf to day and discharge. The fishing schooner Theresa was discharging her cargo of black cod, and the novel sight of so many seal skins and fish attracted crowds of idlers.

A Pleasing Tribute.

Rev. W. Barss, formerly the beloved pastor of Calvary Baptist church of this city, but now a resident of New York state, in continuing his subscription to the WEEKLY COLONIST, says: "It has much pleased me, especially the stand it has taken on questions of temperance and morality. It commends itself to every progressive and high-minded well-wisher of Victoria's interests."

C. P. R. Arbitration.

The commission appointed to enquire into the claim of the C. P. R. for railway construction in British Columbia will commence their Ottawa sitting on December 3rd. Among the witnesses are: Sir John Macdonald, Sir Charles Tupper, Hon. J. H. Pope, Professor Harris, of the Royal Military college, H. P. Bell, C.E., Mr. Hamlin, C.E., who was engaged on the disputed works, Chief Engineer Schreiber and Mr. Smelle, C.E. These will be called as witnesses for the Crown.

The Late Chas. Crocker's Will.

The will of the late Chas. Crocker has been admitted to probate at San Francisco. The estate is valued at $25,000,000, and the annual rents and profits therefrom are estimated at $135,000. The property is of such a nature, however, that its value and future profit depends largely upon the development of the country in which it is situated. Mrs. Mary Ann Crocker, widow of the deceased, who was appointed executrix under the will, has filed a renunciation of her trust in favor of her sons, Chas. F. and Wm. H. Crocker, who were named as executors.

Manitoba Crops.

The following reference to the crops in the neighborhood of Rapid City, Man., will answer for the whole of the province as that point is a central one: "Everyone is going round talking of the wheat, gathering and examining and comparing samples. Of course some frozen grain is met with, but there is no such wholesale destruction as might be supposed from the reports that have been circulated. There may be some farmers who will suffer severe loss, but for one such there are half a dozen who will fare very well indeed, and many farmers will not feel the loss at all. In any event the crop in this immediate vicinity will come up to the average, taken all round."

A Dusty Nuisance.

The attention of the street committee is directed to a most unpleasant occurrence, the sweeping of the streets in the middle of the day, and the loading of dust into the carts. Only the sides are swept and the most unclean part of the street remains in an untidy state. Scavenging of this sort should take place say from six until 8:30 in the morning. During a windy day when this work is being carried on, the eyes and clothes of pedestrians are filled with dust, and the goods in the stores are saturated with it, giving work to the merchants, and entailing upon them serious loss. Some better arrangements should be put in force by the street committee.

A Poor Opinion of Alaska.

Judge Lafayette Dawson, who has just resigned the judgeship at Sitka, Alaska, in an interview at Tacoma was very bitter against Marshal Atkins, because the latter had said the judge was removed from office for standing in with the customs officers. The judge said the animus of Marshal Atkin's charges grows from the fact that he (Judge Dawson) refused to allow Atkins to go to San Francisco and sell the captured sealers. Atkins, he says, took a quantity of sealskins to sell in San Francisco and received for the same $9,300, and brought in a bill for expenses of $7,000. Judge Dawson says he resigned May 5th, and the resignation was only accepted August 23d. He swore in his successor, I. H. Keithley, and started south. He says Alaska is only good for Indians and dogs. A white man has no business there.

The Baseball Championship Cup.

The handsome silver trophy awarded at the Kamloops tournament to the Amities of Victoria, is valued at $75 and stands 22 inches high. The base is supported by four balls, and is about four inches square, on which a pedestal five inches high, with a shield of polished steel on the front and back for the inscription, and two balls at the foot. Each side of the silver pedestal is adorned with three bats and a wreath. The bowl resting on the pedestal is 7½ inches deep and 6 inches in diameter, being richly decorated with engravings of maple leaves, flowers, bats, balls and figures of batsmen and catchers in position. The cover is surmounted with a catcher's mask, three bats and a ball. The trophy will be competed for annually at Kamloops in September and must be won three times in succession before becoming the property of any club. With the trophy is awarded a prize of $300 to the successful club.

"Forgiven" To-night.

The Grismer-Davies Co. open to-night in "Forgiven," and there is evidence that they will be greeted by a bumper house. The S. F. Call, referring to this play, says: "The new play, "Forgiven," was welcomed with effusiveness, and received the stamp of public approval. The play is made up of those strikingly dramatic and emotional materials, an abundant supply of which the author, Mr. Clay M. Greene, has always on hand—a gambler, a false friend, a Mexican, a tramp, and a young girl who falls desperately in love with the sport. Mr. Greene drew his inspiration from Bret Harte in the first place, and has been supplied from the same source for much of his subsequent dramatic efforts. John Diamond, commonly called the Jack o' Diamonds, is the sporting gentleman of the cast, and runs through the play with a degree of human and emotional interest not to be expected of such a character. In his chivalric nature, his romantic character, and nobleheartedness, he is a new dramatic creation, and only lives in story as John Oakhurst in Bret Harte's "Poverty Flat." But Mr. Greene, though he may have borrowed the individual from Harte, has surrounded him with a new atmosphere, given him a wider range of passion, and deeper and stronger heart interest. It is the same open-hearted sport of our "early days," but he is a new man for all that, and, as the Jack o' Diamonds, will have a strong hold on our theatre-goers."

The Tea Trade.

In the report of the British Consul at Yokohoma the decrease of 6,000 tons is recorded in the shipments of tea by the Suez canal. The greater portion of this quantity was carried across the Pacific by steamers running in connection with the Pacific railway.

The Victoria Building Society.

A general meeting of the above society will be held at Harmony Hall, View street, on Friday evening for the election of officers and the transaction of other business. The shares in the new society are being taken up rapidly, and the first drawing will come off at an early date.

At the election held at the Delta Town Hall on September 1st, for reeve and councillors for the corporation of Delta, the following gentlemen were duly elected by acclamation, viz: Reeve, John McKee, Jr.; Councillors, Wm. Arthur, Jos. B. Burr, H. D. Benson, Thos. E. Ladner, and Wm. Pybus.

The N. W. Southern Columbian.

Work on the Southern Railway right-of-way is progressing very satiffactorily and bids fair to be entirely completed at an early date. McCorvie & Bosoms's contract will be finished to the hatchery by Wednesday, which is by far the hardest portion of the work. The sub-contracts farther up the river are being rapidly cleared.

The Roslyn Mine Trouble.

A committee of miners from the Roslyn mines held a conference at Tacoma on Monday with Assistant General Manager Buckley. After the conference Mr. Buckley stated that the proposition seemed to be satisfactory all around, and the miners had returned to Roslyn to report and thought the result would be that the mines would be started up in a few days.

The Harris Party.

George R. Harris, of Boston, a director of the Canadian Pacific railway, arrived by the Yosemite last evening and registered at the Driard. The party consists of the following members, all of Boston, Mass.: Geo. R. Harris and wife, Miss Harris, Miss Mollie C. Harris, Arthur T. Harris, Walter C. Harris and wife, Miss M. T. de Margate, Samuel C. Cobb and wife, Philip Little and wife, Joseph Marquand, G. A. Hilton.

Puyallup Valley Hop Fields.

There is a shortage of hop pickers in the Puyallup Valley, and one thousand hands could be used to advantage for the next three or four weeks. The growers, owing to the scarcity of Indian help, are falling back on Chinese labor, and on Monday a carload of Chinamen passed through Tacoma en route to the hop fields. Owing to the lack of pickers, a part of the crop will be lost, as the hops will soon be too ripe. Those pickers who are at work are making money, and in addition to good wages are furnished with apples, potatoes and other farm produce.

A Hack Driver's Tale.

A hackman named Nichol, driving No. 135, advertises in an evening paper that he contracted to drive a lady to Gordon Head for $2, lost his way, and raced over the whole country, finally letting his passenger out and allowing her to walk a portion of the distance. Although he failed to deliver his fare at destination, he took a dollar more than he was entitled to if he had gone straight to it at first. Travelers who desire to get home at contract price, and do not want to study the geography of the island, will likely take some other conveyance, or walk.

The Batavia's Cargo.

The Batavia, now at Vancouver, brought the following passengers: E. Gray, W. Ross, E. M. Sang, T. Wooyeno, James Grey, Mr. Gilmore, wife and child, Capt. Sieward, K. Tamai, and J. Livingstone. She brought 41 Chinese for Victoria, 9 for Port Townsend, 5 for Portland, New York 5, and San Francisco 393. Her cargo consists of 750 tons for Eastern Canada and 770 tons for Eastern United States points. It includes 947 tons of tea, 118 packages of silk, 40 chests of opium and a quantity of miscellaneous. She also brought 16 sacks of mail.

Amateur Entertainment.

On Monday evening the ship's company of H. M. S. Caroline gave an entertainment on board the vessel, which proved highly enjoyable to all who were present. A number of invitations had been issued to friends in Victoria and Esquimalt, and the attendance was large. Members of "C" Battery assisted, and an excellent programme of vocal and instrumental music, followed by a laughably farce, was presented. Sir William Wiseman, Bart., very kindly aided to make the entertainment a success by giving an excellent recitation, and otherwise assisting his men to enjoy themselves.

Come High, But Wey'e Got to Have 'Em.

A mainland doctor was recently summoned to Harrison Springs to attend a well-known Seattle lady, who was taken suddenly ill. He remained over night and returned home next day. His fee was $350. The same medical man was a short time ago called to Grand Prairie, about 150 miles south of Kamloops, to attend a case, for which he charged a fee of $500. On his way home he was called in to visit a couple of other patients, one of whom he charged $300, and the second $200. The time occupied was four days, and netted $1,000. His district does not receive a government subsidy to retain a resident physician.

The Batavia Rescues Two Sailors.

While on her last trip between Kobe and Hong Kong during the prevalence of a heavy typhoon, when the night was intensely dark, the shouts and screams of men were heard, and through the darkness could be dimly seen a mast sticking up out of the water and on it something that looked like human beings. Captain Watton, like a true British seaman ever ready to aid the distressed, hove to and had a boat lowered, Mr. Sommerville, the first officer, gallantly offering to take charge of it. The waves were running literally mountains high, and on account of the dark and stormy night it was hard to find the mast. At length it was reached and two half drowned and nearly dead Japanese sailors were taken off and put on board the Batavia where through the exertions and kind offices of Dr. McGuigan they were restored to life. It afterwards turned out that they had been three days on the mast, and that seven of their companions had been lost. They had belonged to a Japanese junk. The Japanese government sent a letter of thanks to Captain Watton and his officers and men who rescued the men, and it is said that the gallant captain will receive the Royal Humane Society's medal.—News-Advertiser.

Give Them a Welcome.

The victorious Amities should be given a rousing welcome to-night at the steamer. A brass band and supper might answer.

The Garden Party.

Should the weather continue fine, the garden party this afternoon at Government House promises to be an exceedingly pleasant event, and a happy way of welcoming Lady Macdonald, the wife of Canada's greatest statesman.

No Delay.

Manager J. P. Howe announces that the doors of the theatre will be open at 7:30 this evening prompt, and that there will be no delay whatever in ringing up the curtain as the Grismer company will go direct from the steamer to the theatre on their arrival.

Accidentally Shot.

About 10:30 o'clock last evening a young man named Wright was the victim of a painful accident which will lay him up for a couple of weeks. In company with a son of Mr. R. Lettice he was examining a 44-calibre revolver, and the latter was showing how the weapon worked, when a cartridge in one of the chambers exploded and the bullet penetrated Wright's right thigh, passing completely through it, grazing the main artery and lodging in the left thigh. Dr. Hamington was at once sent for, and upon his arrival he extracted the bullet, stopped the hemorrhage and dressed the wound, and the patient at last accounts was resting easily.

THE SEIZED ARAUNAH.

Arrival of Captain Siewerd and Family and Crew—A Formal Protest Made at St. Petersburgh.

Captain Siewerd, of the sealing schooner Araunah, seized on first July last in the waters of the North Pacific Ocean, with his wife and family, and crew and hunters, five whites and twelve Indians, arrived on the Yosemite last night from Vancouver. The captain's protest against the seizure of his vessel was forwarded to Her Majesty's Charge d'Affaires in St. Petersburg, and received attention at once at the hands of the Embassy. He and his crew were forwarded from point to point until Kobe and Yokohama were reached, and from thence taken to Vancouver by the Batavia.

The protest written by Capt. Siewerd is a lengthy, comprehensive and exceedingly clearly drawn up document, and as it has been brought already under the notice of the Imperial authorities, will no doubt receive early attention at the hands of the Russian, the British and American Governments. Whilst under the Russian flag the crew of the Araunah were allowed the small pittance of nine and a half cents per day to live upon. They speak in warm terms of Captain Sieward and his behaviour to his men. Last night he was so engaged with his family that little information could be obtained from him.

THE LACROSSE MATCH.

The Handsome Trophy Accompanies the Lacrosse Team Home—A Hard Struggle.

The lacrosse match at Kamloops on Monday afternoon between the Vancouver and Victoria lacrosse clubs proved one of the most interesting events on the programme of sports. The match throughout was hotly contested on the worst ground it could be possible to find and continued for about three hours. Although the Victoria boys had little sleep and rest, they acquitted themselves nobly by securing the much coveted trophy, Tite, Cox and W. Clarke scoring for the Victoria team and Simpson claimed similar honors for the Vancouvers, which he well deserved. During the last game the referee was compelled to call time and stop the game on account of the high winds and clouds of dust, which actually prevented the players from seeing each other in fact it was worse than playing in a fog. After ten minutes delay the game proceeded, and with the wind and dust against the boys, they succeeded in scoring a game and winning the match amid an uproar of applause.

The following is the official time for each game: First game, Vancouvers, 19 minutes; 2nd, Victorias, 31 minutes; 3rd, Vancouvers, 39 minutes; 4th, Victorias, 7 minutes; 5th, Victorias, 50 minutes.

The trophy, which is a very handsome cup, will be on exhibition this morning in Jamieson's window, next door to the post office.

A PRACTICAL JOKE.

How a Too Confiding Hotel Porter Was Hoaxed With a Bogus Check.

A practical joker was in the city the other day from the east, and played a rather bad hoax upon George, the efficient porter of one of our prominent hotels. The P. J. wrote out a draft for $200, which was dropped in the entry, and very shortly after picked up by George. In a little while afterwards a notice was posted up in the hotel office, offering a reward of $10 for the recovery of the draft, application to be made to the office. George boldly produced the draft to the smiling clerk, who was in the secret, and was told that the owner was out and would be in soon. An hour afterwards he was informed that the gentleman had left a check for $10 on the Bank of B. N. A. for the amount. This was after banking hours and so the check could not be cashed.

However, George was elated and set up the drinks and cigars for the boys several times, insisting that only two-bit cigars should be taken. He wanted the bartender to cash the check, and the latter declared he would if he had the money, but would borrow it if George would take $9. But the latter would not submit to so great a discount, and retained it.

Immediately after the bank opened its doors next morning George presented the check to the teller, who looked at the piece of paper, and was about to say "You will have to be identified," but refrained. He spent some minutes in consulting the books for the name of the signer of the check, but could not find it, and on scrutinizing the signature, though it was not an unfamiliar name to him, saw that it was a hoax, and handed it back, with the remark "no funds."

George hastened back to the hotel, and upbraided the clerk for having permitted the guest to go away without paying the reward in cash. After fuming about for some days, and endeavoring to cash the unfortunate check, George at last began to smell a "mice," and a friend let him into the secret. When he fully understood the purport of the affair, he was mad enough to kill the commercial man who had suggested the joke, but he had folded his samples in his trunk, and departed to the east. Nothing but gold will satisfy George next time, and he will bite that first for fear of being bitten himself.

KAMLOOPS TOURNAMENT

The Amities Secure the Championship and the $300.

Westminster Takes Second Place—Full Description of Yesterday's Events—The Amitys Get a Rousing Send-off.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

KAMLOOPS, Sept. 18.—All hail to the Amitys! They finished the series to-day by knocking out the Westminster and Donalds and are now the proud champions of British Columbia and the Northwest. At 9:30 the Amitys faced the Westminsters, Baker and Borthwick being in the points. Baker pitched a brilliant game, only four hits being secured by the Royal City representatives. The Westminsters scored their only runs in the seventh innings on a costly error. The other features of the game were Jackson's work at short, and Duck's heavy hitting. Game was called at the end of the seventh innings, Lewis, the Westminster's catcher, being disabled.

AMITIES V. DONALD.

After Kamloops had defeated the C. P. R. nine for the local prize, the Amity and Donald teams tried conclusions. The Donalds presented three professionals, March, the Minneapolis pitcher, proving very effective. Baker and Borthwick were again presented as battery, and at the end of the third innings the Amities had secured a lead of 7 to 0. The Donald's made two runs in the fourth and fifth and added three in the sixth. Schultz relieved Baker in the sixth inning, when the Donalds had secured three runs, had two men on bases and one man out. The Donalds were retired without scoring. The wildest excitement reigned and the approaching darkness made results very doubtful. The score now stood eight to 5 in Victoria's favor, but the Donalds made an earnest fight in the seventh. It was with difficulty the ball could be seen owing to dusk and not a sound could be heard from the spectators, who were watching the game with an almost painful interest. The Amities were in a critical point. Donald men covered the bases and a safe hit was only wanted to tie the score, for, if the ball had been knocked out of the diamond, it would not have been found in time to prevent four men crossing the home plate. The Amities and their friends breathed easily when the next man was struck out.

Victorians should give your boys a hearty welcome home. They have not only played ball like Trojans, but their praises are sung by everyone for quiet, gentlemanly behaviour on and off the field. Following is the score:

Borthwick, the Amity catcher, has covered himself with glory. He played in three games without an error.

Mr. Edwards performed the difficult job of umpiring to the satisfaction of all competing nines, being thoroughly impartial in every case.

In the evening Mr. Speaker Pooley and Mr. Mara, M.P., and other members of the committee entertained the Amity and Westminster teams at their hotel. Mr. Mara congratulated the Amity's on their hard earned laurels and further said that the Amitys had not only shown their prowess in diamond work, but had won general esteem for their gentlemanly qualities.

The Amity club was formally presented with the cup, which is an exquisite piece of workmanship.

The Amitys and Westminster teams were given a great send-off by Kamloops, the air resounding with cheers.

To-morrow the Donald team compete for the consolation.

END OF A GREAT SCHEME.

If the Boom Had Not Burst There Would Have Been "Millions In It."

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13. — Walter Maxwell's big scheme to establish a separate line of coal steamers between British Columbia and San Pedro, the port for Los Angeles, has fallen through. Walter Maxwell has a steamer, the Southern California, for sale, which is pretty certain to be purchased by San Francisco coal miners, and run as a collier. Maxwell's plans had the Southern California ring about them. He intended to buy some mines in the north, to build tremendous coal bunkers at San Pedro, to establish a line of steamers, to cut the prices of coal, and in general to coin money. He went to England and made arrangements to have a steamer brought out, "the first of the fleet." When the depression of properties came down south, the plan went the way of a hundred others like it, or more extensive. The steamer is laid up here, but as negotiations are pending for her purchase she will not probably long be idle.

An Expanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown, —to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channels is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

CANNED SALMON.

The Season About Over—Canners Looking for Good Prices Owing to a Diminution in the Yield.

The salmon packing season in Alaska is over, and the news thus far received is exceptionally good. Estimates made by canners place the total Alaskan pack at 300,000 cases. The Columbia pack this year will not exceed 350,000 cases, and not more than 300,000 cases of this is first-class.

The canners are looking for good prices. While the Alaska pack is 125,000 cases greater than last year, there is a greater diminution in the Columbia yield. On the fall streams there is plenty of trouble, and this is especially true on the Eel river, Smith's river, Gray's harbor, Puget Sound, Shoalwater bay and other smaller sources of supply. The Fraser river pack this season will fall far below that of 1887, and it is stated that the Sacramento pack will not exceed 30,000 cases. On the Skeena river a good report is made; but owing to the falling off in the various other rivers the canners are confident of putting the prices up.
